Security/Building Access

Guests visiting any EPA headquarters building, no matter the location:

- need to have an acceptable form of photo identification, such as a driver's license, to enter;
- may be asked to go through a metal detector; and must be signed in and escorted by an EPA employee. Call from the lobby the EPA staff person you wish to visit for an escort to your meeting location.

Acceptable Forms of Photo Identification

The Department of Homeland Security has begun implementing REAL ID Act requirements for visitors who present state-issued driver's licenses as IDs at restricted federal facilities. In EPA headquarters buildings, driver's licenses must comply with REAL ID Act requirements.

Driver's licenses from states and territories that do not comply with the REAL ID Act will not be accepted as identification.

Check to see if the form of drivers license issued by your state complies with REAL ID Act requirements.

Individuals from states with noncompliant licenses may present alternative forms of identification:

One of These Items

or

Two of These Items (one must include a photograph)

Federal ID (PIV card, similar to an EPASS badge)

U.S. passport

Permanent resident card (green card)
